The Runaways the Bill

To-night,

Shepherd's Moving Pictures are always a welcome entertainment in Richmond. They were exhibited at the Academy yesterday afternoon and evening and were thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators. Among the pictures shown were "Driven Prom Home," which may be called a melodrama in pantomine; the "Indian Marauders," full of pistol shots and horses; Buster Brown shot lis dog, a series that amused the young folks immensely; the inauguration purade and ceremonles at Washington, the scenes of which were very familiar, and the wild goose chase, or rather duck chase of the tramp. There were many other pictures shown, all of which were interesting.

At the Academy to-night and to-morrow, matinee and night, Arthur Dunn and "The Runaways" will be seen againt in that elaborate New York Casino extravaganza. The famous pony ballet is to be seen in the sensational radium dances, which is one of the new features of "The Runaways" this season. Not in years has there been presented upon the stage anything to compare in originality and startling effect with the radium dances, and "The Runaways" famous pony ballet has been the surprise of them all. the view of suing this State, but it is not likely that other States will take as high a view of the matter.

Indeed, a bill has already been introduced in the New York Assembly by Mr. Head, and referred to the Judiciary Committee, entitled "An act to authorize the acceptance by this State of gifts, bequests and assignments of the bonds, warrants, choses in action or other obligations of any other State, and to enforce the collection thereof." This bill is directly applicable to the Virginia-West Virginia debt certificate situation.

Text of the Bill.

The bill in full follows:
Section I Whenever any person or persons, constitueiship, corporation or association shall give, bequeath or assist to the State of New York any honds, warrants, choses in action or other obligations of any other State, the Governor is hereby authorized in his discretion. to receive and eccept the same for the benefit of the State and the right and benefit of the State and the right and title thereto and therein shall thereupon pass to and vest in this State, and the same and all the proceeds thereof when collected shall be held by the comptroller in a special account or fund subject to be appropriated by the Legislature only for the support of coarmon schools, or for the promotion of some educational inter-

There is no other way, and the idea that a medicine in tiself can purify the blood or supply new tissues and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol-de-rol that dyspepsia or indigestion is a germ disease, or that other fallacy, that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so by irritating and inflaming the bowles by pills and cathartics.

There is probably no remedy so universally used as Stuart's Tablets, because it is not only the sick and alling, but well people who use them at every meal to insure perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

People who enjoy fair health take Stuart's Tablets as regularly as they take their meals, because they want to keep well; prevention is better than cure, and Stuart's Dyspensia Tablets do both; they prevent indigestion and they remove it where it exists. The regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.

MONROE DEFEATED GALVIN

Lad From Dixie Won Handily. Pretty Race Among Local Amateur Cyclists.

The blevele races at the Amphithentre ast night aroused the enthusiasm of the crowd to a greater degree than any of the races yet held, and afforded the best exhibition of the kind ever seen in this city. The evening's card consisted of three races, the first, a one mile threeheat race between Bennie Monroe, of Memphis,, and Frank Galvin, of New York: the second, a half mile three-heat race with four local competitors; and the third, a great mortor-paced race between the veteran Nat Butler, of Boston, and Frank Cadwell, of Hartford. While all the races were exciting the great motor paced race of two heats one of three and the other of four mile heats was the most exciting ever witnessed in this home of Rev. Robert Beadles, when this minister united in the bonds of wedlock his nephew. Mr. Vernard C. Beadles, and Miss Hannah Miller, in the presence of the families of the contracting parties and a few of their most inlimate friends. The bride, who is an attractive young lady, was becomingly attried in a tan cloth suit, with a picture hat. She, carried Bride roses, Her maid of honor, Miss Rona Beadles, sister of the groom, wore white organdy and carried white earnations.

Nat Butler, of Boston, winner of more Nat Butler, of Boston, winner of more than one hundred races, won the motor paced race in two straight heats, the first of three miles being covered in 5 minutes 39 3-5 seconds. The margin of the winner was shout 30 yards. The second heat of four miles was finished by Butler in 7 minutes and 20 seconds, or a 1 minute and 521-4 clip to the mile. This rate maintained for four miles on a twelve lap track is terrific speed, and the crowd was fairly thrilled by the tremendous pace behind the puffling motors, which were engineered with great skill. Cadwell's motor was slightly defective, but Butler's victory was clearly on his merits. white organity and carried white carrietions.

Mr. Jospeh Miller, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Miller, of Itighland Springs, and is a universal favorite.
Mr. Beadles is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
John W. Beadles, of Hanover county, and is a young man held in high esteem by his numerous friends.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy young couple received the congratuk-lons of all present. Then, with the wedding party, they were driven to Highland Springs, where they will make their future home.

Those present were Mrs. J. W. Beadles, well's motor was slightly defective, but Butler's victory was clearly on his merits, He had a lead of 50 yards on his opponent at the end of the four mile heat. The riders kept close upon the machines as they whizzed around the oval track at a speed that threatened destruction to the riders in the event of the slightest mishap. As the motors puffed and speeded and the wheelmen pedalled faster and faster the crowd shouted with excitement, and when Butler opened a wider and steadily widening gap over his younger opponent there was great enthusiasm. The result of the race means that Butler is to try Walthour at the that Butler is to try Walthour at the coming Boston contest, according to the statement of Manager Prince.

The Local Race.

The local race, a two heat sprint of half a mile in which four Richmond riders were the contestants furnished the only accident, and that, happily, was not Maggle Carpenter, aged seven, and Froderick Carpenter, aged fifteen, are at the Pasteur Institute, undergoing treatment. The children are from Ansonville, North Carolina, where they were bitten two weeks age by a mad dog.

Their father, R. A. Carpenter, is of limited means, and in order to save the children, T. C. Hoen, who directs the Pasteur Institute at the University College of Medicine. only accident, and that, happily, was not a serious one. The riders were Messrs. Dallas Richardson, J. C. Coites, Oille Hope and Nelson Holt, of this city. At the crack of the pistol in the first heat, the riders got off in the following order: Hope, Richardson, Holt, and Coites. Hope set a fast pace from the start, and it was soon seen that his competitors would not exertise him in the eight lans, for he was soon seen that his competitors would not overtake him in the eight laps, for he widened the distance between him and his nearest competitor. The heat was finished in the same order in which the riders left the start.
